From Red River.

The following is the conclusion of the despatch of the Toronto Telegraph's Red River correspondent, telegraphed from St. Paul, January 28—

MACDONALD MILED.

After enquiry from responsible parties, the fact appears that Governor McDougall was wilfully and villainously misled by those who should have endeavored to aid him and themselves, as so-called loyal party leaders. A letter containing twelve or fourteen hundred names was shown him as being the names of those willing to protect him in his endeavors to enter the Territory, when, in fact, half the names were copied from the school registers in various parishes. James Ross, one of the parties to get up the ruse, has since with Mr. Wray taken the oath of allegiance to the Patriot Government. Ross told me in the presence of a dozen of the leaders, that the loyal party in Winnipeg are all working to obtain their personal ends, to get fat offices, full pockets, at the expense of Canada, and have not a bit of patriotic feeling. McDougall was given to understand that no difficulty would be experienced, but when matters came to be investigated, it can be shown that altogether he acted unbecomingly in some instances. Still he did not under false impressions conveyed to him by so-called friends of Canada. Fortunately there was no objection to McDougall, except by a few papers influenced by the papers in Canada opposed to him. His Canadian officials did much harm, and injured the Canadian cause terribly.

SCOTT'S PROPOSAL.

The Canadian people are fond of their denunciations of Scott and those who betrayed them. They are fed on Government stores, and part are confined in the Fort and part in the jail. The English half breeds, who were raised under Duane, were thoroughly indoctrinated by the latter leaving them in the night. While passive, the English half breeds are inclined to see the French succeed in their demands, now that they have taken the stand. Prominent English half-breeds, however, are not so inclined, and are anxious to see the French succeed in their demands, now that they have taken the stand. Prominent English half-breeds, however, are not so inclined, and are anxious to see the French succeed in their demands, now that they have taken the stand. Prominent English half-breeds, however, are not so inclined, and are anxious to see the French succeed in their demands, now that they have taken the stand.

TARGET TARGET.

The Indians are excited, and the Sioux aiming story has been in the main gotten up by the Pembina, so that they will have American troops at Pembina next spring. It has had an effect, as General Hancock has promised troops to the Americans at Pembina. It was the exaggerated and goes to embitter the feelings with the half breeds. The few Indians who held lands as squatters were at first doubtful as to their chances under Canada; but the French half-breeds stepped in and told them the rights were to be looked after. The Hudson Bay people now see that affairs have assumed a proportion never calculated on, and have made up their minds that Canada will eventually foot the bill of the insurgents' deprivations.

PROTESTATIONS.

Father Thibault was before the Council with DeSalaberry while I was in the Fort. They were under guard and could show no credentials except a letter from Joe Howe, which is no good to protest. It was a mistake sending DeSalaberry; the half-breeds think Canada should have sent a man of some calibre. Father Thibault is greatly respected by the half-breeds and could if allowed by the insurgents explain away much of the misapprehensions that exist.

BOWEN'S MISTAKE.

Joe Howe did mischief in his trip last summer by his careless talk, vaunting himself as the saviour of Nova Scotia. A half breed asked him if he was the saviour of Nova Scotia. He answered that he was. The half breed then asked him if he was the saviour of Nova Scotia. He answered that he was. The half breed then asked him if he was the saviour of Nova Scotia. He answered that he was.

WILLING TO COME TO TERMS.

Riell is, I think, desirous of making terms with Canada, and undoubtedly would not undertake the task of organizing a republic. He has his hands outstretched, and may succeed in his aim. Gold will fetch him. As long as the Hudson Bay people did not sell him for a thousand a year, and if he made a handsome time for Nova Scotia, why cannot the North-West people make as much!

REASON.

The insurgents expect that, when the Canadian Parliament opens, the North-West question will be debated, and that commissioners will be sent out duly authorized.

THE RAILWAY SCHEME.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad scheme is laughed at by those who have been over the country. A loyal resident in Winnipeg and one of our position told me that the scheme is impracticable; that hundreds of thousands of dollars a mile will not build it; that the country through which it passes is barren and dotted with lagoons, and unfavourable markets. Ask any man except Government contractors, anxious for a job, railroad contractors and jobbers, and they will tell you the same.

BARBAR.

Our Government have in the whole affair acted as if they had wanted to kill McDougall could not have taken a better course. The people are as we kept with our insurrection from the Government; that he had a number of officials to handle whose confidence with him infuriated the people, and who did more harm by their talk than many are aware of. In fact he was misled, and was prompted to acts which, if he had used discretion, ought never to have been discarded. McDougall, although he made mistakes, was certainly the most energetic man of the party, and personally at Winnipeg and Pembina left a good opinion behind him. Captain Cameron, with all his faults, was the only other one of the Government party who the half breeds are inclined to respect from the pluck and determination he evinced in his attempt to get into the territory, and the sensible manner in which he conversed with people on all sides of the troupe.

THE HALF-BREDS.

The half-breed population, on the whole, are desirous of settling difficulties peaceably with Canada. Many half-breeds who are serving Riell, have opinions of their own, and will not support the Autocrat. It is a pity that the English half-breeds, who are serving Riell, have opinions of their own, and will not support the Autocrat. It is a pity that the English half-breeds, who are serving Riell, have opinions of their own, and will not support the Autocrat.

THE FORCES AT WORK.

The priests will be the parties to throw obstacles in the way, and will be aided by Bishop Tache, whose letters from Canada, in a great measure give the prime for Riell, in a great measure give the prime for Riell, in a great measure give the prime for Riell. The priests will be the parties to throw obstacles in the way, and will be aided by Bishop Tache, whose letters from Canada, in a great measure give the prime for Riell, in a great measure give the prime for Riell.

Troppman's Execution

A Paris letter of January 30th says:—The execution of Troppman took place this morning on the Place de la Roquette, in presence of a considerable crowd, the greatest number of whom passed the night on the ground. When the guillotine had been erected the noise of the crowd somewhat ceased, and the general conduct then presented nothing to reprehend. At last the executioner, Mr. Hauendecker, a tall, powerful man, dressed in black, fifty-eight years of age, with white hair, ascended the steps of the machine and examined minutely every part, in order that all might act freely at the supreme moment.

As soon as his inspection had terminated he slowly descended, and entering the prison, signed the usual receipt for the person of the criminal. At about the same time arrived M. Lombard, peace officer of the arrondissement, and M. Blavier, one of the police officers of the central brigades. They had come to divide the crowd in order to allow the Abbé Cuvier, the chaplain, to pass and perform the last duty to the prisoner. At a few minutes before six, accompanied by the executioner, these two assistants, the Governor and some warders, the priest entered Troppman's cell.

When the head of the prisoner placed his hand on his shoulder the prisoner was seized with a convulsive trembling, which increased visibly when the fatal words were uttered, "Troppman, your application for commutation has been rejected. The hour is come!" The unfortunate man then turned round, and regarding with haggard eyes the persons near, could scarcely rise.

He was then left for a short time alone with the abbé, after which the ceremony of the "toilette"—that is to say, cutting off his hair and removing the collar of his shirt—took place, the priest all the time reciting prayers aloud. The assistants then strapped down Troppman's hands to his sides, and placed another leather thong on his ankles, which act prevented too long steps, and the terrible cortege set out for the scaffold.

The executioner's two men placed themselves each at side, and supported Troppman by holding him by his arms, the Abbé all the time following as close as possible with a crucifix, and whispering words of consolation. The executioner came next, and then several persons obliged by their official position to be present. On issuing from the prison on the Place, the unhappy criminal perceived the fatal machine right opposite, and instinctively recoiled. From that moment all power of motion seemed nearly gone, and were it not for the men at his side he must have fallen.

After the crucifix had been presented to the almost unconscious criminal, he was with great rapidity placed on the gliding plane, and the next moment the heavy knife fell.

Slavery in Alaska—Gross Barbarity of the System.

One of the worst evils we have to combat in Alaska is a system of slavery that for barbarism cannot be surpassed in any country under the sun. It is a system that will require years to abolish, and great patience on the part of the white population and the civilized Indians to endure. It is a system which is being practiced ever since the discovery of the Territory, and tradition tells us that it was in existence for centuries before. Slaves can be bought to-day from any tribe that in Alaska. Parents will sell their children for three or four blankets or a few dollars, and have no compunction of conscience for the use they may be put to in future.

When one tribe goes to war with another all the prisoners taken by either tribe are captured, treated, and used as slaves. When a chief or any of his family die, it is the custom to kill one or more of these slaves, so that the chief or his deceased relative may have a servant in the other world to wait on him. About a year ago the old chief of the Eklita tribe died, and a few days before his death, when his relatives were satisfied that he could live but a short time, they selected as a victim for sacrifice a young, healthy, good looking warrior, whom the Eklita tribe had taken prisoner while at war with one of the tribes down near Queen Charlotte's Sound.

The slave had been tied up two days about the time the old chief died, and by some means some of his friends became apprised of his condition, and immediately notified General Davis that the Indian slave was liable to be killed at any moment. General Davis had one of the chiefs brought before him, and after a long conversation about the foolishness of such sacrifices he agreed to let the slave go free, and had they might attempt to put into execution their original plan of killing him, General Davis permitted the Indian to remain in the city where he would be protected.

Just a week ago yesterday, one of the chiefs tried hard to get a notice of a native breed named Eranoff to sacrifice him. For the two preceding weeks this chief would go up every day or so to General Davis, stating that he had a slave in the city, and wanting to know if he could not get him into Indian territory. The Governor, in presence of the chief wanted one of the Indians, told him to go and get him, but it was not until the day in question that the effort was made to get this man. It seems that Eranoff's mother was an Indian woman, but his father was a Russian, and when he was but three years of age a lady named Bengeman got him and adopted him and brought him up.

The chief who claimed him had a child that was expected to die, and afterwards died, and having no slave, but his claim on Eranoff, made this effort to sacrifice him that he might be a servant for his child in the spirit world. A lot of the chief's warriors were appearing to the house of Eranoff, but before getting there Eranoff's wife ran for the Russian Bishop and Eranoff after an interpreter to plead for his life before General Davis, having understood that General Davis had the Indians that could take him. When General Davis saw the chief claimed, in a very few well-chosen words he taught that old chief and several of his warriors more about civilization than they ever knew before. General Davis stated the chief who was married with this man, pointing to Eranoff. The Indian told him his child was sick and he only wanted him for three hours and then he would let him go free. The General told him that the best thing he could do was to lock on Eranoff as a free man already, and told the Indian in the future he should ever attempt to trouble Eranoff again he would put him in the guard-house and keep him there. The Indian went off well pleased, and stated that he would be a good Indian hereafter.

The slave is put to death as follows: As soon as a chief dies the slave is compelled to wash the body of the corpse, and is then taken out and thrown flat on his back and held there, when a stick of wood is placed across his throat and two Indians set down on each end of it, and in this way strangle him to death. His body is then placed inside a large pile of wood and burned to ashes.

In consequence when a big chief died to put to death two or more slaves. All slaves taken in war have to act as servants for the chiefs who own them.—Sitz Times

Extraordinary Concomitance of Considerable concomitance has been caused in the quiet colony villages of Eberley and Toth Hill during the past few days by a disclosure by the death of a woman who has for the past fifty years resided as a maid, and married two wives. It is said that she came from Scotland fifty years ago and obtained work at one of the colonies, where she worked for some time and paid her addresses to and ultimately married a servant girl living at the village inn. After being married she relinquished her life as a maid, and commenced to make bonnets, yokes, day balls, pipelay rubber, which she and her partner vend in the surrounding village. After living together for 22 years, the wife died. She (the husband) professed to lament her loss very much. Ultimately he married a second woman, with whom she lived for a number of years, but at length by mutual consent they separated. For some time she was laid on a bed of sickness, and being despondent, she was induced to make a second husband where there is a deficiency of bread milk. Price 25 and 50 cents per tin. CANADA

Life Assurance Company.

POLICY HOLDERS in the "Canada Life" are not compelled to surrender their policies even if unable to pay their premiums, as the Company will lend the holder a sum nearly equal to the reserve in hand. This, in the case of the older policies, even at ordinary rates of interest, is a very great advantage, the policy remaining valid for the term of the assurance.

Foreign agents do not extend this aid to their policy holders.

Policies five years in force, upon which age has been admitted, are now

Indispensable on any ground whatever.

Subject only to payment of premiums which may become due.

SPECIAL FEATURES.

ECONOMY—

Giving more assurance for the same money than other Companies.

HOME MANAGERMENTS—

HOME INVESTMENTS—

The Beauty.

"What makes you so pale, young man,
What does your cheek say?
What makes that bowing of your breast—
That frequent deep-drawn sigh?"
The young man slowly shook his head,
And bowed a heavy sigh.
But, save those tokens of his grief,
He made no reply.
Perhaps some matter had troubled him,
And let the love of the bitter
Of slighted love's kiss sweet?
"Ah, no," said he, "I am not ill;
'Tis not that, but, oh, I
I've been smoking a cigar, and oh!
I've been smoking a cigar, and oh!
I've been smoking a cigar, and oh!"

Choice of a Husband.
Of beauty just enough to bear inspection,
Of candor, sense, and wit, a good collection;
Enough of love for one who needs protection,
To secure the words, "I'll keep her in subjection."
Wisdom to guide her right in each direction,
Nor waste a weaker sense in imperfection,
Should I ever meet with such a companion,
Let him propose, I'll offer no objection.

Those who go to Heaven.

We would advise those who are sorely troubled and vexed in spirit, lest persecution have not found the true church, to read the following relation of the late brother Wesley, who at one time was seriously troubled in regard to the disposition of the various sects and chances of each in reference to future happiness and punishment. A dream, one night transpired in his mind, in which he saw the gates of hell.

"Are there any Roman Catholics here?"
asked Wesley, thoughtfully.

"Yes," answered the porter.

"Any Presbyterians?"

"Yes," again was the answer.

"Any Congregationalists?"

"Yes."

"Any Methodists?"

"Yes, by way of a denier, was asserted the pious Wesley."

"Yes," to his great indignation, was asserted.

In the mystic ways of dreams, a sudden transition, and he stood before the gates of heaven. "Improving his opportunity, he again inquired:

"Are there any Roman Catholics here?"

"No," was replied;

"Any Presbyterians?"

"No,"

"Any Congregationalists?"

"No,"

"Any Methodists?"

"No,"

"Well, then," he asked, "just in wonder,
who are inside?"

"Christians," was the answer.

An Italian in his 110th year, being asked the secret of his living so long, replied:—

"When hungry, of the best I eat,
And dry and warm I keep my feet;
I screw my head from under my pillow,
And let my care creep my brain."

A griddlestone should not be exposed to the weather, as it not only injures the woodwork, but the sun's rays harden the stone so much as to render it useless in a very short time.

In a bad sign to see a man with his hat off at midnight, explaining a new theory to a lamp post.

In reply to a young writer who wished to know "which magazine will give me the highest position quickest," a contemporary advised "power" magazine, if you contribute a story article.

"What, again?" said a wife to her husband. "No, my dear," said he, "not somebody has been rubbing my boots till

SHORT AND SWEET.—Pay your debts as soon as you get your money in your pocket.
Speak your mind when it is necessary, hold your tongue when prudent. Speak to a friend in a steady case. If you can't lend a man money tell him why. If you don't want to, do the same. Cut any acquaintance who lacks principle. Bear with impunity, but not vice. Respect honesty, despite duplicity. Wear your old clothes, till you can pay for new ones. Aim at comfort and propriety, not fashion. Enter treat your friends but never beyond your means.

YOUNG CATTLE.—Give young cattle all
the cornstarch and hay they want to eat, and with good weather they will thrive. If they, with them, with a moderately strong solution of carbolic soap, following the direction accompanying the package.

POTATO PRODUCE.—Boil three large mealy
potatoes, mash them very smoothly, with
one ounce of butter and two or three tablespoons of thick cream, add three well-
beaten eggs, a little salt, and mix well,
and a table-spoonful of brown sugar. Beat all well together, and bake in a buttered dish, for half an hour. A few currants
may be added to the pudding.

YOUNG CATTLE.—Give young cattle all
the cornstarch and hay they want to eat,
and with good weather they will thrive. If they, with them, with a moderately strong solution of carbolic soap, following the direction accompanying the package.

POTATO PRODUCE.—Boil three large mealy
potatoes, mash them very smoothly, with
one ounce of butter and two or three tablespoons of thick cream, add three well-
beaten eggs, a little salt, and mix well,
and a table-spoonful of brown sugar. Beat
all well together, and bake in a buttered
dish, for half an hour. A few currants
may be added to the pudding.

CORN AS FEED.
Corn for feeding was the first subject taken up, though not first in order. Mr. Galloway had used it and found it advantageous as grain food when pasture was short, and when it was used and fed dry it was more nutritious and productive of milk than the best hay. His method of growing it was to plant on soil ground, ploughed and harrowed, in drills 18 inches apart, using two bushels of seed and a half for seed per acre.

Mr. Butler also testified to the value of this fodder, but his mode of culture was somewhat different. He chose rich ground, setting the rows as much as three feet apart, using three bushels of seed to the acre, and cultivating assiduously.

Mr. A. Garner, of Drummondville, had found the best results from sowing the corn broadcast.

Mr. James would not sow far apart, preferred seed land, was careful to put in the seed early, by about the 28th of May, and, if possible, not later than the 1st of June.

Had cut the crop last year with a reaping machine, the process by hand being tedious and expensive; had harvested with the reaper about four acres a day; preferred to cut while the plants were green and dry it, about the first of September.

After cutting left it for three or four days on the ground, then gathered it and piled it in shocks or stacks in the usual way, having it away by a team and chaff during the winter, salt was wanted. By this feed he estimated more cows could be raised on the same land, one acre of corn being equal to five acres of meadow, and not more exacting to the soil than the best hay.

The Western corn was the variety best adapted for the purpose. It was to be procured from the Western States, and recommended the purchase of selected seed corn.

most common.

A paper on this subject was read by Mr. Harris. The disease affects only the hind feet, is attended with inflammation, suppurates, and sometimes results in the loss of the hoof, and prevails most in the winter. The treatment he recommended was making a couple of incisions on each side of the lay above the hoof, and inserting into the cut red precipitate and garlic.

Some desultory discussion ensued, and it was evident that there was not sufficient discrimination in the nature of the disease, which was by many confounded with foot and mouth disease, or with the effects of inflammation and gangrene from frost.

Mr. Williams said that the method of treatment adopted in Hertford County was either correct or a substitute applied to the sores, to promote suppuration, or red precipitate applied to the surface without any cutting of the skin.

BEST BREED OF CATTLE.
The question of the best breed of cattle for the dairy was slightly discussed. Mr. James giving the preference of grade to Durham, and Mr. Farrington, looking more at the milking quality than the breed, preferred on the whole cows of comparatively small size.

SALT.
On the subject of salt it was generally conceded that the quality of the fodder salt would be superior to any if it were only dry. In consequence of the defect of moisture, preference was given by some to the best Oneida grade of the Liverpool dairy salt.

Alluring—A young butcher allures customers to his shop by announcing on a gliding sign that he "slaughters hogs like his father."

How to make the winter pass quickly.—Give a note to the bank for money days, and spring will come as you as you are prepared for it.

COUNTY OF HASTINGS
Sabbath School Convention.

The First Sabbath School Convention of the County of Hastings will be held in the John St. Presbyterian Church in Belleville, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 10th and 11th of February, commencing at 9:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

Ministers of the Gospel and two Delegates from each Sabbath School within the County of Hastings are cordially invited to attend and take part in the proceedings of the Convention.

Ample provision will be made by the Christian people of Belleville for the reception and comfort of the Ministers and Delegates attending the Convention.

In order that Ministers and Delegates may be properly provided with the names of those who have taken part in the Convention, the following list of names will be published in the County "Chronicle" and in the "Hastings Standard" on the 1st of February.

Ministers and Sabbath School workers from the adjoining County of Prince Edward are also cordially invited to be present, for whom also (the notice being given by the Secretary) the Committee will provide homes.

The introduction of the following agenda for discussion has been placed in the hands of competent Sabbath School workers, the aim of the Committee being to draw out the talent we have in our own County.

AGENDA.
County Conventions—How to work.
Aims and objects of Sabbath School Teaching.
Duties of Parents to the Sabbath School.
Encouragements to children in the Sabbath School.

Teachers' Meetings and how to conduct them.
Establishment and organization of Sabbath Schools.
How can we best retain our Senior Scholars?
How to conduct a Sabbath School Session.
The Blackboard.

CHAS. MARTIN.
Belleville, Jan. 27, 1870.

P. S.—Any Sabbath School in the County failing to receive circulars from the Secretary will please to appoint their Delegates and send notice thereof to the Secretary.

ADVISE A WOMAN WHO WISHES TO BE HEALTHY.

Please let her correct her bad habits, if she has any, of carriage, of expression, of want of a measure of false modesty, of coquetry, of flattery, and of indifference.

Secondly let her study her own complexion, expression, state, profile and features, and in an effort to do those of which she is proud, and with the same care, she should correct her bad habits, her colors, the coiffure, the expression, and the manner that she has adopted to bring prominently all her natural advantages, and throw into the shade all unfavorable traits.

Thirdly—Let unguilty warts and scars be done away with, let hairs which injure the appearance be destroyed, the complexion and hair be cultivated, the form developed, the complexion brightened, any hygienic and delicate manner, if need be, and the general health improved under the advice of an intelligent physician, the teeth, voice and even the nails attended to. If she has done all this, there will be little need for the purely vain cosmetic arts, such as paints, powder, patches and rouge.

NEW YORK LATE HANOVER.

King Solomon was of the opinion that there is nothing new under the sun. The general principles he was, perhaps, right, but when we come to specialities, details and modifications of old things he was wide of the mark. Something new in this life is turning up. It is the way among the latest, the most interesting, the most enigmatical and the most promising of new things is the female banking firm. In Broad street of Woodhull, Claflin & Co. have created a new sensation "on Chicago" not so violent as, but more profound than the gold corner panic of that awful "black Friday" and these lady financiers, as dealers in bills, bonds, stocks, etc., appear to be so finally settled in their position, so confident and so well posted that the notion prevails among the lame ducks and old foxes of Wall street that Vanderbilt, the oldest fox of them all, is at the bottom of the experiment. No woman can be so successful in one of great importance. If successful it opens a new and boundless field for employment to women—a regular California gold plover, not only in New York, but in every city and town in the United States and in both hemispheres. But if it should fail? Well! These ladies of the new banking firm, they say, are backed by a capital of half a million, and they can't fail. At all events, we like the experiment as a new thing, and we wish it success.

Extraordinary Phenomenon on Lake Superior.

A TIDAL WAVE, OR WHAT?—THE LAKE SUPERIOR HAD FOUR FEET ABOVE ITS TIDAL LEVEL, THROUING UP TREES, LOGS AND ICE, FROM WHICH IT GRADUALLY SUBSIDED.

From the Tri-Weekly Chatham Planet.

We are credibly informed by an eye witness, indeed yesterday, a most remarkable and tangible evidence of the truth of what is told us—that on Thursday the 18th of January last, a most extraordinary and sudden rise of the waters of Lake St. Clair occurred and was immediately observable in the vicinity of the mouth of the River Thames and along the south shore of the River. Parties resident on the lake shore inform us that at ten two hundred feet were heard resembling the reports from cannons fired at a distance, after which was experienced a sensation as from a giant awaking to and, as though an earthquake had been awakened from a century's repose. Upon visiting the water line, it was discovered that the ice had been suddenly shoved from the shore and piled upon several feet in height, carrying with it trunks of trees and logs, which had for a quarter of a century lain embedded in the sand of the beach, at the mouth of the River Thames and vicinity the ice was thrown to the height of two or three feet, while at the River Russum, it was raised at least four feet above its ordinary level. As was intimated above, so sudden was the action of the water in the lake, that the ice and trees, and logs were absolutely piled in a jumbled mass several feet in height along the shore for a distance of several miles, and was most observable on the south and south-east quarter. At the mouth of the River Thames the waters fell to their natural level in less than an hour, but in the vicinity of the River Russum, it was full a week before they had retired to their ordinary boundary.

Now, what could possibly have caused this wonderful freak of the ocean? We cannot tell. Perhaps some of our aquatic can explain. Could it have been any volcanic action beneath the waters? Could it have been produced by the atmospheric elements above? Or could it possibly result from a storm of ice making the way from the Detroit River and becoming jammed in the narrow channel to Lake Erie? It seems most extraordinary that this late circumstance—occurring as it ever did—should have been so near to us, and that of which we have no knowledge could bring about the very wonderful effects which were most unmistakably observable for miles along the south and east shore of Lake St. Clair. For our own part we don't pretend to be posted on these intricate and debatable matters, and do not feel disposed at present to investigation and elucidation to those who have more time on their hands and whose heads of mind naturally lead them to find causes for astonishing and hitherto unexplained facts. We profess to be practically practical.

Socialism in Russia.

A REVOLUTIONARY PROCLAMATION—A RUSSIAN AGAINST THE OWN GOVERNMENT.

The North Eastern Correspondence publishes a curious proclamation, which has been discovered by the Russian police in its search for the members of the late Socialist circle.

"Brothers," says the document, "our patience is at an end. Existence every day becomes harder to you. We have been deceived with vain promises. This earth which God made for all men has been seized upon by our masters. * * * Justice is nowhere. Tyranny reigns everywhere. Formerly it was not thus. The fields belonged to the tillers of the soil. Our ancestors knew neither nobles nor priests, nor merchants, nor usurers; and they therefore, lived free and happy. But foreign princes came from beyond the sea, bringing with them their nobility and officials; they enslaved the people and seized their fields, and have ever since lived on the sweat of our brows."

"After becoming masters of our country the emperors built to wax, whence they will not let it over us. It is to them we owe those oppressive laws and heavy imposts which reduce us to misery. They are selfish. Why should they not be? They are our lords. Their towers are so well fortified that it is impossible for us to attack them, unless by firing the red coat." (This is a term used by the peasants for setting a town on fire.) "The 'Czar' proclaims the proclamation, 'The drunk when he signed the ukase which was read on the 19th of February, 1881.' What says this old peasant? You are free; but only on one condition—that you be so finally seized by the government, so confident and so well posted that the notion prevails among the lame ducks and old foxes of Wall street that Vanderbilt, the oldest fox of them all, is at the bottom of the experiment. No woman can be so successful in one of great importance. If successful it opens a new and boundless field for employment to women—a regular California gold plover, not only in New York, but in every city and town in the United States and in both hemispheres. But if it should fail? Well! These ladies of the new banking firm, they say, are backed by a capital of half a million, and they can't fail. At all events, we like the experiment as a new thing, and we wish it success."

"Private and Confidential." Sir Francis Hincks has issued a circular addressed to prominent Reformers throughout the country, in which he gives reasons for joining his fortunes with the Cabinet of Sir John A. Macdonald. The circular is marked "private and confidential," and it is a matter of some little interest to know how it first became public. We observe that the Toronto Telegram, which claims to have been the first journal to publish it, says it cost fifty dollars, and places into the hands of a large number of style fact-finders, and adds documents from its columns. Who is the reformer that will let the letter for fifty dollars? Will the Telegram?

The new Premier of Newfoundland has made a speech in the House, assailing the late Minister, and justifying the course taken by himself and his party.

He repeated the assurance already tendered that it was not intended to infringe upon the prerogative by sending up his (Mr. Bennett's) name to the Premier.

His explanation of the motives which led to that step being taken are, however, very weak, and ought to be accepted on the supposition that the late Governor was totally ignorant of the ordinary proceedings of our Legislature.

The funeral of the late Lord Cairnes took place on Saturday at Montreal. There was an entire absence of ostentation in the ceremony.

Although nothing was wanting to the sincere respect of all classes for the deceased commander. The military attended in great numbers. Prince Arthur was present and the Governor General was represented by one of his aides-de-camp.

The Mayor of a country town was questioning the boys at a ragged school, and asked them what were the pumps and what were the wheels of the world. He asked them one by one, but they could not tell him. At last a little boy near the bottom row, I know him, the Mayor and Corporal do go to church. B.

A Trinity College (Dublin) man was taking the day after yesterday's edition, attached to life by uninvited sailors. Somebody remarked that in China, if a man was condemned to death, he could easily have a substitute to die for him.

"Ah yes," said T. C. D., "I believe many poor fellows get their living by being substituted for a victim of life, yet still."

"A victim of life, yet still."

"A victim of life, yet still."

CONVENTION AT WINNIPEG—PROCEEDINGS AT THE MEETING—DONALD SMITH'S ADDRESS—PRESENTLY APPEAR TO CANADIAN GOVERNMENT—BILL OF RIGHTS—COMMENTS OF THE "NEW NATION"—RED RIVER PART OF THE DOMINION—BILL OF RIGHTS.

From the Telegraph's Special Dispatch.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 12.—Winnipeg, Feb. 12th, 1870. The Convention of the 25th inst. did not do anything the first day, owing to the non-arrival of some delegates. On the second day the Convention was organized, and Judge Black elected as chairman. Schmidt and Caldwell, Secretaries in the contested election case, Banastre, Scott, deposed in Scott's favor.

Reel moved that Smith's papers be translated into French—Carried. The third day Smith's Convention was read and commented on favorably. Reel said that there are ample grounds in this document for the belief that Canada is disposed to do justice; she has shown her disposition, willingness, and readiness to do justice. It would seem that at first the Canadian Government forgot to speak to us of certain of our rights; but that later events have caused them to recollect what they were willing to do for us. Reel moved that Smith be requested to come before the Convention, as a Commissioner to state what he can do, and to state, according to his judgment, what ought to be done to secure the rights of the Red River people. Reel said that Canada began to respect us, and we are willing to meet these advances, and consider them fairly and justly. He concluded by saying that being now in a position to get our rights, we are ready to receive them. Reel moved that Smith be requested to come before the Convention, as a Commissioner to state what he can do, and to state, according to his judgment, what ought to be done to secure the rights of the Red River people. Reel said that Canada began to respect us, and we are willing to meet these advances, and consider them fairly and justly. He concluded by saying that being now in a position to get our rights, we are ready to receive them.

London, Feb. 17.—In the House of Lords to-day, a Committee on Standing Orders was appointed.

LAND TENURE IN IRELAND.

Lord Cairns demanded returns as to the condition of agricultural labourers and the tenure of land in Ireland.
Lord Salisbury assured this mode of conducting business as likely to lead to great waste of time in the early part of the session. After observations from the Lord Chancellor, Earl Grey, Lord Redesdale and others, the House adjourned.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.
CANADA AND THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Russell, Under Colonial Secretary, stated that the Hudson's Bay Company's demands had been transferred to Canada, but no money had been paid. The transfer had been brought about through the co-operation of England, Canada, and the Hudson's Bay Company. The next day's business would be speedily settled, but how soon it would be premature to say.

THE NEW TELEGRAPH SYSTEM.

The Post-Master General again alluded to the irregularity of the telegraph service, and regretted that his hopes of improvement had not yet been realized. He explained that recent storms and defective insulation had interfered with the working of the wire, while at the same time the lines were overladen with dispatches by rival news companies. The Government was unable to forward all reports offered, and some compromise was indispensable.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION.

Mr. Foster then rose and asked leave to bring in a Bill providing for Elementary Education in England and Wales. He spoke in general terms of the value of education, and pronounced the present system deplorable. He then gave the contents of the Bill. It proposed to divide England and Wales into educational districts. Orders were to be made under certain conditions, to be sanctioned by inspection, and, where needed, compulsory rates would be imposed to supply any deficiency of aid from the State. Local inspectors were to be elected. Parents, when able to do so, were to pay school fees. All others to receive free tickets, admitting their children to the schools. In every poor section, education was to be compulsory. A general debate followed the introduction of the Bill. Messrs. Milner, Duguid, Munro, Widdows, and others participated. Mr. Walter made a speech in support of the Bill. Mr. Fawcett wished to have attendance at school made compulsory.

Mr. Foster met his objections and promised that the House should not lose sight of the Bill. The Bill was then read a first time, and the House adjourned.

House of Lords.

JUDGES JURISDICTION BILL.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—In the House of Lords today, the JUDGES JURISDICTION BILL was read a second time. The bill is intended to give the Lord Chancellor power to remove judges from office. It is a measure of great importance, and has been the subject of much discussion in the House of Commons.

House of Commons.

REVISED TRANSLATION OF THE BIBLE.

In the Commons, Mr. Buxton gave notice of inquiry as to what action, if any, the Government proposed to take in regard to a revised translation of the Bible.

THE ARABIAN WAR.

A motion was made for the appointment of a select committee to inquire into the expense of the Arabian war.

THE FLOGGING OF PRISONERS.

Mr. Bruce, Home Secretary, referred to reports of the ill-treatment of O'Donovan Rossa, and asked that punishment of flogging had been inflicted on prisoners.

THE "EXAMINER" ON THE IRISH LAND BILL.

The Examiner says the main objection to the Irish Land Bill is that it leaves everything to the discretion of the Court of Equity, thus leaving a national law for litigation.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 18.—News has been received of the loss at sea of the "Myra," from Newcastle for New York, with 8 men.

THE IRISH LAND BILL.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The members of the House of Commons, at a private meeting, agreed to support the Irish Land Bill. There will be no opposition to the second reading of the Bill.

Masonry Among the Indians.

The evident dream of the Aborigines of this country, is to erect a temple in which to enshrine a statue of the Great Spirit, in every one, most of all should strike a tender chord in the Mason's breast. They are not what they were once; civilization has nearly approached enough to brutalize them with the vice that accompanies it, as the crowd of dissolute camp-followers accompany an army. The novelist Cooper has been ridiculed by some for identifying the Indian character, but we believe his pictures to represent much more nearly the Indians of former days than their descendants do now. Whether there are judges of features of the Mytic I do not know, but there are individual Masons among the better classes among them we do know, and we are equally certain that once there existed fraternalism who possessed, like Freemasons, an historic knowledge which was confined solely to the initiated. DeWitt Clinton, once a G. High Priest of the United States, related on the authority of a respectable native hunter, who knew in examination, the existence of such a society among the Iroquois. That there were mysteries among the Mexican and Peruvian tribes, is equally well known.

Tecumseh, the famous Shawnee orator and warrior, and equally noted for his temperate habits and adherence to truth was made a Mason while on a visit to Philadelphia; and more than once, when under trial, did he prove himself true to the brotherhood. P. Grand Master Mason, of Virginia, Lodge of that State, in 1849, related an interesting incident in Tecumseh's life, which he stated was well authenticated, and recorded for several centuries by the living. "During the war with England, a detachment of Americans were overpowered in the North-West, by a superior combined English and Indian force, and compelled to surrender. Scarcely had they laid down their arms, when the latter began to insult, strip and maltreat them. At length the tomahawk and scalping knife were raised, and Tecumseh entered upon the scene at the height of his fury. He made no motion to check the followers, but on the contrary encouraged them in their work. Many of his best warriors had fallen previously by the K.uckny rifle, and this was an Indian's revenge. But a cry of a Mason and a brother rushed forward, in a language he could not comprehend. In a moment he sprang among his followers with his tomahawk uplifted and uttered the life-saving command—'Let the slaughter cease! kill no more whites!' The result was but one of the several authentic incidents in the Masonic life of the brave Tecumseh."

We have another noble example in Indian Masonry in the person of Gen. Parker, grandson of the great Indian Chief, Red Jacket, a pure blooded Indian, and at the same time an educated gentleman and a Mason. During the late civil war he became known as General Grant's staff, and proved himself to possess the war-like blood of his ancestor. At a Masonic banquet given in honor of the war, he spoke most touchingly of himself, as almost the lone remnant of what was a noble race. As he found his people thus wasting away, he asked him self, Where shall I go when the last of my race shall have gone? Where shall I find home and sympathy when our last council-fire is extinguished? I said, I will knock at the door of Freemasonry, and see if the white race will receive me, and that he had done so, and found the following companionship beneath the loyal arch. I entered the encampment, and found a valiant Sir Knight willing to shield me there, without regard to race or nation. I went further, I knelt to the cross of my Saviour and found Christian brotherhood, the crowning charity of the Masonic tie. I felt assured that when my glass ran out, and I shall follow the footprints of my departed race, Masonry sympathizers will cluster around my coffin, and drop in my lovely grave the ever-green acacia—sweet emblem of a better meeting.

Joseph Smith, the famous Mahanv Indian and Mason, was still vaster the exult of the practical power of Masonry principles. During the last century, at the battle of the Clouds, near Monticello, Col. McKinstry, of the regular army, was taken prisoner by the Indians allied in the British service. After the battle, it was resolved that he should be taken to the usual prisoner of Indian tribes. When he was taken to the Indian village, he was treated with the greatest respect. He was made to understand that the Christian religion was superior to all other religions, and that he was a noble man. He was treated with the greatest respect, and he was made to understand that the Christian religion was superior to all other religions, and that he was a noble man. He was treated with the greatest respect, and he was made to understand that the Christian religion was superior to all other religions, and that he was a noble man.

and often, with deep emotion, related how he was snatched from the jaws of death by an Indian Mason.

Scientific and Useful.

Valued Carpenter. M. Minton (Comes).—In order to give to vulcanized caoutchouc all that softness which is required, for instance, for printing ink rollers, the author reduces the caoutchouc to powder, places it in a second time to the temperature required for vulcanization. By this means it is rendered soft and elastic, and is fit for various uses, among them the making of durable printing ink rollers.—Chemical News.

Electric Alarms to Indicate a Certain Temperature. M. M. Bono and Kuebler (Paris).—The authors have constructed a set of thermometers, through the tubes of which are soldered two small pieces of platinum wire, which are not in metallic contact until the mercury just rises to the height at which the wire has been placed. Since the latter are in contact with conducting wires to a suitable galvanic apparatus, the instant the mercury makes metallic contact, an alarm is sounded, and this may, of course, by proper adjustment, be affected at any temperature, which, for some purpose, or other, should not be exceeded. The instrument is intended for industrial use.

Comment.—J. M. Bonhall writes to the St. Amer. "I have used the compound of glycerine, oxide of lead, and red lead, for melting a large cast-iron kettle that had been fractured across the bottom by allowing the kettle to freeze in the winter. It takes some little time to dry, but turns almost as hard as stone, and is as strong as iron. For mending cracks in stone or cast-iron work, where iron filings cannot be used, I think it is invaluable."

My method was as follows: Take the large and red lead, equal parts, mix thoroughly and make into a paste with concentrated glycerine to the consistency of soft putty. Fill the crack and smooth this layer on both sides of the crack so as to completely cover the fracture. This layer can be rubbed off if necessary when nearly dry by an old fork or comb.

Pain in the Back.—Paris is much interested in a remedy discovered by a workman who, to relieve the pain from a severe burn, thrust his hand into a pot of varnish which happened to be at his side. The relief was so sudden, and the healing of the wound so rapid, that the new spread, with the result of bringing to him every one of the neighborhood who had a burn. Many wonderful cures are said to have been performed at the time of the great explosion in Paris, last September, and the discoverer has been summoned to Paris to make some public experiments. (Journal de Chimie and Boston Journal of Chem.)

DIFFICULTIES IN THE USE OF PLASTER OF PARIS.
Completing the frequently noted unsatisfactory results of the manipulation of plaster of Paris, many of which are doubtless due to a failure to observe some necessary precautions.
Plaster should always be kept in a dry place—never in a cellar—and in winter time in a warm room. It will not work satisfactorily if cold, nor if mixed with cold water. Premising that the article is good, the observance of the following directions should insure success.
Put the required quantity of lapis water into the mixing vessel, and add the plaster gradually (stirring constantly), until the proper consistency is reached. If too thin, it will not set as quickly. If for taking impressions, it should be quite thick, and the addition of a small pinch of salt will hasten the setting, but the cast will not be quite so hard.

FOURTEEN HOURS.—Never whip your horse for becoming fatigued at any object by the roadside; for if he sees a stump, a log or a heap of tan-bark in the road, and while he is young it carefully and slowly to pass it, you strike him with the whip, it is to the log or the stump, or the tan-bark that is hurting him, it is not the way of reasoning, and the next time he will be more frightened. Give him time to examine an object, or to make a detour, and use the whip to make him pass in a hasty manner, or to make him pass in a hasty manner, or to make him pass in a hasty manner.

Railway Romance.

A very remarkable thing happened on the Atlantic coast, where a young man, a student at the University of Toronto, was engaged to be married to a young woman, the daughter of a prominent family. THE public are informed that in connection with THE DAILY INTELLIGENCER, we have one of the best equipped and most complete of the printing press in the city.

Marrying in the Far West.

A far western marriage ceremony, thirty years ago, was the subject of a story published in the "Far West" has been thus described to us:

"The magistrate in his shirt sleeves, busily plying the hoe. He was a candidate for matrimony, who followed him closely along the row. The magistrate at first pays no attention to them."

"Do you the square of the youth asks."

"Yes," And the hoe rises and falls faster than ever.

"We want to be married," the youth desperately exclaims.

"Wall, shet up, dere you, till I get to the end of this row. I'm counting the hills."

Thus admonished the train follow him anxiously along, hand to hand, until the end of the row is reached.

"Twenty-seven, twenty-eight, now dere you, stand up here," and the square leaps for a moment upon his hoe handle.

"Do you to the youth solemnly swear, by thunder, to take this woman for your wife?"

"Yes."

"Do you to the girl solemnly swear, by thunder, to take this man for your husband?"

"Yes."

"Then I swear, by thunder, you are man and wife."

Getting Fashionable.

"I want gold put in this one, and this and that, and she pointed out several of her front teeth."

"Why they are perfectly sound, and do not require plugging."

"I know they are sound but I want to be in the fashion, and have them filled with gold."

"But it is a pity to spoil them," replied the dentist.

"Never mind, I want it done; it is fashionable with American women."

"They have their teeth filled because they have decayed, and not for the purpose of being fashionable."

"Is that so?"

"Yes, and there is not one but would give free hundred dollars to have as beautiful teeth as you have got."

"Then if that is the case, I guess I will not have mine interfered with."

Had she not been dissuaded of the error that plugging teeth was worn as an article of fashion, and not as a necessity, she would superfluously have demanded the insertion of her beautiful incisors, in order to take the thing in smoothly.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, FEB. 24

BRITISH TEMPLARS—As well known advertisement, the British Templars meet every Thursday night here in the Workmen's Temperance Hall, at 7:30.

LECTURE—An interesting lecture on the subject of "The Bible as a Book of Revelation." It can be easily referred to the advertisement in another column.

THE BONAVENTURE INCIDENT—This is the title of a new candidate for public favor in the newspaper line. It presents a neat appearance typographically and is a worthy effort. Mr. R. D. Hand is the author.

POLITICAL REMINDERS—An Ottawa despatch to the Montreal Gazette says it is rumored that a caucus will shortly be held among all the New Brunswick members, but three, to discuss the propriety of joining the Opposition. The protest is inconsistent with the conduct of Mr. Tilly.

Y. M. C. A.—The weekly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held to night. We learn that a kindly word will be read by John J. B. Flint, Esq., to be followed by readings. We are pleased to learn that the number of applications for membership far exceeds the anticipation of the members. Let there be a large attendance tonight at half past 7 o'clock.

A HANDSOME COMPLIMENT—The De Wolf Howe Company No. 7, of Oswego, remembering the kindly response accorded to them by our friends on their visit to this town last year, have presented to Moira Engine Company No. 1 of Belleville, a very large and handsome photograph of their Hall, and the Company arranged in uniform standing in front, with their apparatus. The picture is taken in the first style of their art, is beautifully framed, and will doubt be highly prized by the recipients. We are glad to hear it is the Town Hall, where all will have chance to see for themselves.

Curling.

OTTAWA VS. BELLEVILLE

The second stage of the match for the possession of the Colborne Medal, was played in Ottawa to-day, and resulted in the defeat of our representatives by 38 shots. The following is the score as recorded by telegraph.

Majority for Ottawa 25.

Parliament Yesterday.

In the Senate, Hon. Mr. Letellier de St. Just moved for copies of McLaughlin's commission as Lieut.-Governor of the North West Territories. He said he had been formerly appointed to Confederation, but seeing it was a fait accompli he would do all in his power to support the constitution, at the same time securing the appointment of Mr. McLaughlin, who, he said, was not acceptable to the half-breeds and Indians from his actions in the Manitowish affair.

Mr. Macpherson thought better communication with the North West should be established than those contemplated last year.

Mr. Campbell defended the Government. The Bill relating to the Coasting Trade was read a third time, as was also the Fisheries Bill.

The debate on the address being over, the House of Commons has at last adjourned to-morrow.

A considerable amount of formal business was got through yesterday afternoon, but very little of it has any special importance. The Government continued their intention to build the bridge given last session with reference to a bill to limit the rate of interest, the question being for the present left open whether such measure could constitutionally originate in the Senate.

Resolutions on the subject of banking and currency are also proposed for next week, and Mr. Languevin informed the House that the question of improving the navigation of the Ottawa River and of the Welland Canal are under the consideration of the Government.

It is said that the New Brunswick members will oppose the Government on the Indian Bill.

The present military establishment of the United States consists of 277,000 men and 100,000 horses.

Commodore Rogers Champlain, who was with Perry at the Lake Erie battle, and who is now in the United States, is expected to visit Belleville on Sunday at 10 o'clock.

The Western of Prince Rupert, which is now in the hands of the British Government, is expected to visit Belleville on Sunday at 10 o'clock.

There are two patent medicines in the market, one of which is called "The Great Remedy" and the other "The Great Remedy." The Great Remedy is a patent medicine, and the other is a patent medicine.

 There were numerous outrages on Chinese yesterday. In one instance a fearful riot was committed, but the heavy rain and a large police force dispersed the mob. Several persons were injured while attempting to rescue Chinese from danger.

DISTRESS AMONG LAKE SUPERIOR INDIANS.
 Chicago, Feb. 24.—Capt. Brown Wallis, late of the British army, who arrived in Port Maitland from Port Maitland, says that the Indians throughout the region of Lake Superior are starving to death. Fish cannot be found in the shallow water and the Indians are reduced to the most desperate straits.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The steamship "St. Laurent," from Brazil, has arrived.

MARKET.—The very agreeable character of the weather has rendered the market for the day very active. The market for the day was very active, and the market for the day was very active.

Cautions for those Having Sheep.

We copy the following excellent notes given about sheep from a circular sent by F. C. D. McKay, Esq., the general agent of the American Emigrant Company who have already over 10,000 sheep pastured among the farmers who purchased land of them in the following size from fifty to two hundred head.

1. Keep sheep dry under foot with litter. It is also most necessary that feeding troughs, water troughs, and other such things, be made of wood or stone.
2. Take up lamb bucks early in summer and keep them up until December 1st, following, when they may be turned out.
3. Drop or take out the lowest bars as the sheep enter or leave a yard, thus saving broken limbs.
4. Count, every day.
5. Begin grazing with the greatest care and use the smallest quantity at first.
6. If an ewe does not lamb, milk daily for a few days, and mix a little slum with her milk.
7. Let no hog eat with the sheep—by no means in the spring.
8. Give the lambs a little "milk-feed" in time of weaning.
9. Never frighten sheep if possible to avoid it.
10. Use rye for weak ones in cold weather, if you can.
11. Separate all weak, or thin, or sick, from those strong, in the fall, and give them special care.
12. If any sheep is hurt, catch it at once and wash the wound, and if it is in any time apply spirits of turpentine daily, and always with something healing. If a limb is broken, bind it with splinters, tightly, loosening at the joints.
13. Keep a number of good bells on the sheep.
14. Don't let the sheep spoil wool with chaf or burrs.
15. Cuttag-larks in early spring.
16. For scours, give pulsed slum wheat bran—prevent by taking great care in changing dry for green feed.
17. If one is lame, examine the foot, clean out between the hoofs, pare the hoof if needed, and apply tobacco, with blue vitriol boiled in a little warm water.
18. Shear at once any sheep commencing to shed its wool unless the weather is too severe, and save carefully the belt of any sheep that dies.
19. Have some good wool by to refer to at least: this will be money in your pocket.

A correspondent sent to the New York Farmer's Club, for answer, the question what is the comparative value of corn and potatoes as food for stock? One of the members gave the following answer to the question: "Dry corn contains from eighty to eighty-five per cent of nutritive matter, a considerable part of which is nitrogenous and helps to make red flesh while the starch and sugar tend to make fat. Average potatoes have some twenty-seven per cent of nutritive and with the exception of less than one-half per cent of albumen, this is mostly starch. In round figures, one bushel of corn would be worth as much as four bushels of potatoes."

The collection and application of manure should go on continually, for the grass and cereals and all kinds of crops should always make an annual draft on the soil for the ingredients which enable them to build up their foliage, stems and seeds. No liquid or solid manure suited for enriching the soil should be allowed to go to waste about the household. Soap-suds, wood ashes, soot, charcoal, sawdust, etc., may be applied to the soil with benefit to the crops. Leached wood ashes are very useful for top dressing grass land, keeping the soil moist and the plants and increasing their productive force, so much so as to double the acreable yield of hay wherever they are applied in sufficient quantities.—Practical Farmer.

SPECIAL NOTICE—MONROVIA, SEPTEMBER, 1890.—Declining, suffering from the prostration and weakness caused by a severe attack of influenza, the past winter, I was induced to try Prof. Sarsaparilla. It proved a restorative, and its effects were most satisfactory. I therefore, conscientiously recommend it as a thorough purifier and invigorator of the human system, thus giving increased health and vitality to the weary invalid. (Signed) MRS. JAMES OLSTADT.

A WARNING OUTSTATION.—The public have long felt the want of something that could be depended upon for the cure of rheumatism, syphilis, bromitis, neuritis, and all other such ailments, and we are happy to say that what is so well supplied in the "Canadian Fair" is a restorative, and its effects were most satisfactory. I therefore, conscientiously recommend it as a thorough purifier and invigorator of the human system, thus giving increased health and vitality to the weary invalid. (Signed) MRS. JAMES OLSTADT.

American Despatches.

VISITORS TO THE MONARCH

ANAPOLIS, Md. Feb. 25.—An excursion party from Washington to visit the Monarch, arrived at a special train this morning. There were 200-250 persons, including Secretary Robinson, and members of the Cabinet, Walter Watson and others. The 'Monarch' will proceed a few miles down the Chesapeake with the party and practice her guns for the benefit of the army.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE IN MISSOURI.
St. Louis, Feb. 25.—The House Committee on the constitutional amendments will report to the Senate on Monday. The Senate Committee will probably do the same.

RETURN OF THE MONARCH.
Annapolis, Md. Feb. 25.—The Monarch has returned. Her non-commissioned officers entertained the non-commissioned officers of the Naval Academy at supper to night.

THIS MISSING STEAMSHIP.
New York, Feb. 25.—The Capt. of the Cunard steamer 'Calabria,' expressed opinion that there is no occasion for alarm relative to the 'City of Boston.' The 'Calabria' and other vessels lately arrived, report continuous entry into wharf, against which a disabled steamer would make itself heady.

MEXICO.

ANOTHER INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT.
San Francisco, Feb. 25.—Mexican dispatches state that a public meeting held in Tepic on the 10th January, which declared in favor of the independence of the North American States, General Lora and Pedro Vago are the leaders of the movement.

VANCOUVER'S ISLAND.

FURTHER GOLD DISCOVERIES.
A dispatch from Victoria, Vancouver's Island, states that colony is greatly excited over the news from Plover Hill. The lower country will soon be nearly deserted. Miners seek nuggets of gold and lumps of silver in all other proportions in their daily work.

CUBA.

INSURGENTS SURRENDERING.
Havana, Feb. 25.—Insurgent Col. Garcia with five officers and eighty soldiers, surrendered voluntarily to-day, at Villa Clara, and took the oath of allegiance to Spain.

ENGLAND.

THE OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE CHEWS.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Oxford and Cambridge are both making changes in their usual courses for the annual University race. Cambridge has rejected Spencer and Oxford Hamilton.

THE MISSING STEAMSHIP—SEARCH TO

BE INSTITUTED.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 26.—The agents of the 'City of Boston' have sent the 'City of Dartmouth' to search for the missing steamer. The something may be learned of the missing steamer, Capt. Jenkins, of the steamer 'Boston', thinks the 'City of Boston' is off the coast of Ireland, encountering the head winds now prevailing. The opinion of all old sailors is that she is disabled and making for a port under sail.

FRANCE.

THE EMPEROR AND THE MINISTRY.

Paris, February 27.—The Emperor declares that, officially and personally, perfect harmony exists between himself and the present Ministers, and that he believes they have the sympathy of every honest Frenchman.

THE PRESS ON THE SITUATION.

The journals which support the Deputies of the Right have begun to attack Olivier's Ministers, the Right, the Court organ, declares it will not join in the attack, but it protests against the measures of Olivier as contrary to its principles.

REDUCTION IN THE ARMY.

It is asserted that the Council of State will propose a reduction in the army contingent.

THE CARNIVAL.

The first day of the carnival passed without the slightest trouble.

THE BISHOP OF LONDON ON THE PAPACY.

The Bishop of London publishes a letter declaring that he would rather than aid in the project of a new Pope. The Bishop does not believe that the Pope is a man of God, but he believes that the Pope is a man of God.

FRANCE AND THE CONVOY.

France has made a new attempt to disband the Council from acting against her interests.

ARRIVALS.

Quebec, February 27.—The steamer

'City of Washington,' 'Penelope' and

'Java,' from New York, have arrived.
